KILLED BY A POLO BALL

Nathan Swift, of Chicago, Dies of Accident Thought to Be Trifling.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Nathan Swift, son of Louis F. Swift, the packer, died from the effects of a blow on the temple with a polo ball at Onwetsia field during a game. The accident was at first thought to be trifling. Mr. Swift was playing in a contest in which his companions were Frederick McLaughlin, W. W. Rathbone, Walter Farwell, Sidney Love, Walter Keith, R. R. McCormick and Charles Garfield King.

The ball which struck Mr. Swift was one that went high in the air and from the mallet of Mr. Love. Mr. Swift did not appreciate his danger until too late, the glare of the sun preventing him from following the ball in its flight. When the ball hit him he did not fall from the saddle and when his companions galloped to his side he was at first inclined to make light of the injury. He was induced to dismount, but walked without aid from the field. Arriving at home he complained of dizziness and later on he went into a delirium, which was followed by his death.

New Labor Union Opposes Strikes.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—A labor union, the fundamental principles of which are opposition to all strikes and in favor of settling disputes with employers by arbitration, was organized here. The organization is to be known as the Independent Association of Brass Workers. Delegates representing the brass workers in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland and other cities met the local craftsmen in a conference which resulted in the formation of the union. In the declaration of principles the members are pledged not to inaugurate a strike, and all will be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. The new union will be independent of other labor organizations.

Letter to W. G. Garman

Middleburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: It's an old saying best advertisement is a pleased customer. It happens to us continually in this way: A man buys Dev's his house—he has painted it three years for a dog's age, thinks he knows what he wants, buys 30 gallons, and has 10 left. He sees right off that 20 De as much as 30 of anything else, likes that; it comes quick; surprise; and he tells of it. The advertisement is a pleased customer. Three years roll round. isn't a sign that his house paint, he don't paint it. Next he don't paint it. This comes it is a surprise; but he has got to it. Still the best advertisement is a pleased customer.

Yours truly,
